Note:

- (a) *CNY (Chinese Yuan) registration fees are applicable only to delegates and students from organizations in China. This is because the NSFC China sponsors researchers in China.
- (b)  Students are required to send student ID card copy to Ms. Joanne Wang at iccmdesk@gmail.com.
- (c) The full Registration Fee for Delegate and Student covers one presentation and paper publication at Conference Proceedings, the access to all the technical sessions, refreshment breaks, banquet on 27th, all lunches on 26th-28th, all suppers on 25th, 26th, and 28th, and one copy of the conference materials.
- (d) If you only attend the conference without presentation, you also need to pay full Registration Fee.
- (e) “Accompanying Spouse” charge is only for wife or husband who will not attend the conference but has the meals with participant together.
- (f) If you also do second presentation, please pay “Second Paper Presentation” charge.
- (g) The official receipt will be handed to you along with the conference package, when you arrive at the conference on-site Registration Desk.
- (h) Once the payment is confirmed, the paper will be channeled to the "Presentations" list for scheduling. You should be able to see your paper(s) in the "Presentations" list online (on the right margin on the webpage) on and from 1st June 2017. The final presentation schedule will be completed by the Conference Chairman and made available on line two weeks before the conference.

(i) If you choose to pay the registration fee on-site, you must pay a deposit of CNY 300 (or US$40) by 30th June 2017, so that we can have your paper scheduled for publication. We will issue a receipt to you for this deposit and it will be fully refunded to you by CASH on the on-site registration desk at the conference venue. If you are not able to pay the registration fee during the conference, the deposit is not refundable. This is to minimize the number of no-shows. If you do not present a paper, you may just pay the registration fee on-site, and no deposit is necessary.
